PROGRAM NOTE

Yellow was originally composed as a movement from a suite for band entitled Krisanna's Colors. The suite was written to honor Krisanna Roberts, an amazing young lady who shared her joy and love for life with all.

She described her days and emotions in colors. Pier Hardin, her art teacher, shared her love for color as follows:

"Krisanna Roberts' love of color was evident from the first moment one met her. She herself would likely be decked out in cheerful, brilliant pinks or lavenders or spring greens, any hue associated with the world in full bloom. She would compliment whomever she met with some observant comment about the colors that person had selected to wear that day. She would say how much she admired a particular stone in a piece of jewelry for its clarity of color, a stripe in one's shirt because it reminded her of the color of a favorite flower, a painting because of a dot of chartreuse or lemon yellow. No detail was too small for her to notice."

A yellow day for Krisanna was bright and cheery which she freely shared with others. In the face of adversity, her enduring spirit conveyed beauty and optimism to all. Determined, loving, generous, funny – Krisanna truly lived in the light.

Yellow was commissioned by and dedicated to Krisanna Roberts and the UMS-Wright Band of Mobile, Alabama. The piece was premiered on May 25, 2010, under the baton of UMS-Wright Director of Bands Richard DeLaFuente.

NOTES TO CONDUCTOR

There are multiple teaching opportunities throughout this piece. Students have the opportunity to experience the Lydian mode as well as a fugue. Articulations, particularly staccato, are crucial throughout.

Feel free to explore tempo as your performance and teaching situation requires. I suggest beginning slowly (M.M. = 92) with emphasis on articulation uniformity and clarity. As the band becomes comfortable, the tempo can gradually be increased leading to the marked 138 beats per minute.

Balance during the fugue should be a priority to insure the presence of each line. Please note the solo/optional soli as indicated. I suggest beginning with the soli for teaching/rehearsal purposes and moving to the solo texture at the appropriate point in your rehearsal sequence. If the optional piccolo is available, the upper line of the flute part should be performed.

I hope that you and the band find Yellow to be a rewarding musical experience. Best wishes for a wonderful performance!
